Grace is Expecting Baby in February, Prince Rainier Says

MONACO (UP) — Princess Grace of Monaco is expecting a child in February, Prince Rainier announced today in a radio broadcast to his people.

Miss Kelly, beautiful American movie actress from Philadelphia, Pa., and Rainier, reigning prince of the tiny principality of Monaco, were married here last April. The civil ceremony took place April 18, and the lavish religious ceremony took place on April 19.

The proud prince's announcement meant unbound joy for this tiny land, where an heir to the throne means that Monegasques will continue to enjoy freedom from taxes and military service.

Acid-Tongued General Defends Marine Drilling

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (UP)—Lt. Gen. Lewis B. (Chesty) Puller, a beribboned and legendary figure of a fighting Marine, roared out in defense of S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon today and said that only through such training as he gave his men will Americans survive in the next war.

Shortly after the retired general—veteran of Leatherneck fighting in many far corners of the world—finished one of the most dramatic courtroom appearances in military history, the defense rested its case.

The government, trying McKeon for manslaughter and oppression of troops in the April 8 death march in which six recruits drowned, declined even to put a question to Puller and down from the stand he stalked.

"Oh, God, I'd follow that man to hell," McKeon said fervently when the old-timer, now in retirement, left the room.

The acid-tongued Puller told McKeon's seven-member court-martial of combat veterans that the sergeant, in his opinion, was simply following good military practice in leading his "laggard" platoon on a night march.

Furthermore, he said, "if we are going to win the next war" night training should be increased to 50 per cent.

Puller, who led his Marines through the hell of Korea in the early days of that war, said American troops fared so badly there, in his opinion, because of a lack of the very thing McKeon was giving his men.

Puller called the death march here only "a deplorable accident." "Without discipline, an army becomes a mob," he shouted, using the words of Napoleon Bonaparte. Names that Marines cherish spilled from the side of Puller's mouth—Guadalcanal, New Guinea, New Britain, Peililiu.

Stratton Labels Hodge Actions 'Brazen Betrayal of Public Trust'

CHICAGO (UP) — Gov. William G. Stratton called the actions of deposed Illinois Auditor Orville E. Hodge a "brazen betrayal of public trust" in a radio-television report to the people Wednesday night.

Stratton was given air time to explain his actions in dealing with Hodge, now under state and federal indictments on charges arising from a one-million-dollar phony state check scandal.

Stratton said his administration was unable to prevent the scandal because of statutory limitations on his power.

The governor continued that the "auditor's embezzlement" was "purely an internal matter involving the office of state auditor." Hodge's "crime" was "made possible only through collusion of a high bank official," Stratton said. "There is no evidence that any other state officer was involved in any manner."

Eisenhower Signs Bill to Liberalize Social Security

Issue Final Notice For Unpaid Personal Property Taxes

A final notice to all citizens of Saline county who have not paid their personal property taxes is being published in today's Daily Register. These taxes were delinquent June 1, 1956.

Paragraph 692, Chapter 120, Revised Statutes of Illinois, provides: "... it shall be the duty of the collector to levy the same, together with the costs and charges, that may accrue by distress and sale of the personal property of the person, company or corporation who ought to pay the same."

Maynard Cannon, county collector, in making the final notice, stated that "it is my hope that delinquent taxpayers will come to my office and pay their taxes to avoid additional costs that must be necessarily added. I certainly do not want to add these costs, but under the law I am forced to do so."

Cannon reminded the people that when they go to his office to pay their taxes to be sure and take their tax notices. He said it is nearly impossible to give the proper credit to the property on which taxes have been paid when it takes so much time to look up the description of each piece of real estate, he said.

Besides personal property taxes which are now due, the second installment of real estate taxes should be paid before September 1 to avoid penalty.

CARMI, Ill. (Special)—A Carmi youth was injured at 7:35 p. m. Wednesday when he lost control of his car on Ill. 1, three miles east of Norris City, during a severe rainstorm.

John Vokes, 19, is in Carmi Township hospital here with a fractured skull. His condition is reported as good.

Nelson said it was raining so hard at the time that visibility was very poor. Vokes was said to be en route to Eldorado.

McLeansboro to Dedicate New $125,000 Factory Building Aug. 10

MCLEANSBORO, Ill. (UP)—Town people here will dedicate a new, $125,000 factory building at a community jubilee Aug. 10.

The city's steam whistle will be tooted every hour. Church bells will signal start of a parade to the new factory building at 6:30 p. m. for an open house.

The new building will be occupied by the Elder Manufacturing Co., which has made Mark Twain shirts in McLeansboro for more than 20 years.

Of the total cost of the building, John Stelle, ex-governor, underwrote $90,000. The remaining $35,000 is being raised by McLeansboro Industrial Development Inc., a non-profit firm seeking new industry for the community. The shirt firm will pay off the building over a 10-year period at 4 per cent interest.

The development group has already collected $30,000 of its obligation and hopes to go over the top on the fund drive the night of the jubilee. Concessions stands operated by civic clubs will turn over their proceeds to the fund.

"People are all pepped up over the jubilee," said Bob Evans, newspaper editor and Chamber of Commerce director. "Stores have indicated they will close early for the celebration."

Ted Satterfield, chamber president, said the 27,000-square-foot two-story brick building the shirt firm will vacate will be used by the development group as a site for a possible new industry.

"We can 'get well' if we are able to locate a 100-man industry in it," he said.

The Elder Manufacturing Co. has already indicated it will add 50 more workers when it moves into the new building. That will bring its total employment to about 300.

Pays $268 Fines For Incidents On Highway 45

ELLIS EVANS of Michigan, formerly of Carrier Mills, yesterday paid fines totalling $268 before Police Magistrate Vern Joyner after a series of incidents on Route 45 Tuesday evening.

Evans was fined $150 and costs for driving while intoxicated and $100 and costs for leaving the scene of an accident.

Chief of Police Ross Lane said Wayne Kerr was driving home on Route 45 when he was run off the road by Evans. Kerr turned around and overtook Evans at Route 45 and 13 in Harrisburg, but by that time Evans' car had bumped into two automobiles getting there.

Kerr got out of his car and tried to take the keys out of the Evans car when Evans got tied up momentarily in the intersection traffic, but in a scuffle Evans got loose and drove away. However, his license plate number was taken and city police were notified.

Yesterday State Policeman Guthrie Alexander, with a warrant, went to Carrier Mills to get the youth but while he was gone Evans showed up at the local police station, stating he understood the police were looking for him.

He pleaded guilty to both charges when arraigned and his mother paid his fine.

This morning Carrier Mills Police Chief Bill Murphy brought to the county jail Eugene Vineyard of Harrisburg. Murphy arrested Vineyard last night and this morning in the state's attorney's office signed an information charging Vineyard with driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Women to Draw At 62; Disabled Eligible at 50

President Says
Some of Measure's Provisions 'Unwise'

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday signed the social security bill liberalizing benefits for nearly six million women, disabled workers and needy persons.

Shortly before signing the bill, Mr. Eisenhower told a news conference some of the bill's provisions are "unwise." He said the social security system was being saddled with "something I don't think should be there."

The measure lowers the 65-year retirement age for women to 62 and permits permanently disabled workers to start drawing benefits at the age of 50. The administration opposed both these provisions while the bill was in Congress.

About 4,700,000 needy, disabled, blind and aged persons and dependent children get raises of from $2 to $4 a month in welfare payments under the measure.

To finance the extra benefits, social security payroll taxes for 53 million workers, employers and self-employed persons will be boosted by about 850 million dollars annually starting next Jan. 1.

Besides making the first reduction in retirement age in the system's 20-year history, the bill extends coverage to about 600,000 additional farm owners and some 225,000 self-employed lawyers, dentists and other professional workers.

Mr. Eisenhower also signed a bill setting up new government accounting procedures. He included a statement saying he will ask for further improvements next year.

Other bills signed by the President authorize:

Bringing all servicemen under full social security coverage on the same basis as civilians as of Jan. 1. Increased borrowing authority for the Commodity Credit Corp. from 12 to 14½ billion dollars to support prices of this year's farm crops and finance the first year of the soil bank. Also makes it a criminal offense to steal, sell or use farm crops under price support loans.

Acceptance by the Farmers Home Administration of second mortgages to finance farmers who are unable to meet present debts and can't refinance loans through commercial banks.

Find Murphysboro Marine Strangled In Washington

WASHINGTON (UP) — The body of a young Marine who police believed was strangled was found in a downtown residential area early today. He was tentatively identified as Gerald Ray Lipe, 23, of Murphysboro, Ill.

Police said a passing truck driver spotted the body lying sprawled in weeds and notified the police. A spokesman said no marks of violence were found on the body but it was believed he had been strangled.

Military police said an identification in the dead Marine's hat indicated he had just returned from overseas. His service ribbons included a Korean presidential citation.

The Marine wore a wedding ring but no wallet was found.

Police said his wife, Mrs. Iris Zolande Lipe, reported that he left his Murphysboro home for Washington Tuesday. They said he arrived here Wednesday night.

Marine headquarters here said Lipe was stationed at Norfolk, Va.

About Town

And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

IT'S BEEN a long time between things, in this column writing. Believe it must have been at least a couple of weeks since the last effort, but there were long meetings—water board, city council, county board—plus a manhunt and various other items which must come first, and one just gets too busy once in a while to keep up with About Town.

Wilburn Georgia of Harrisburg Route 2 came in yesterday with an odd piece of vegetation. It was different than the oddity which has been brought to my attention about 14 times this summer.

Back eight or ten years ago I thought I had a phenomenon and mentioned it—tomatoes growing on potato vines. Only I was told that they weren't tomatoes at all but were potatoes going to seed in pods. And my bubble burst.

This year there were an unusually large number of such plants and when Wilburn Georgia came in yesterday with his plant all wrapped in cellophane, I thought it was one of the same.

But it wasn't. Wilburn had potatoes growing on the potato vine and that was more unusual than (Continued on Page Twelve)

To Crown Miss Saline County in Beauty Pageant at Fair Tonight

Antique Auto Show Will Be Held During Intermission

"Miss Saline County of 1956" will be crowned this evening in one of the highlights of the Saline County Fair.

The eighth annual Saline County Beauty contest, sponsored by the Jaycees of Harrisburg, has been one of the top features of the fair through the years and a near capacity crowd is expected for this evening's show.

The beauty contest is scheduled for 8 p. m. The 25 Saline county beauties will first appear in formal gowns. Later they will be seen in bathing suits. During the intermission for changing clothes, there will be an Antique Auto show.

Just before the start of the Beauty contest the two prize winning cattle—the grand champions in beef and dairy competition—will be paraded to the grandstand and their owners awarded trophies.

Wednesday evening a fine society horse show was staged, followed by Steele's Frontier Days, a real crowd pleaser.

There were six classes in the society horse show, with Saline county entries taking first place honors in two events.

Dr. N. A. Thompson of Eldorado, riding the famous Midnight Merry Bird, topped first place in the Tennessee Walking Mare class and Mrs. L. M. Hancock's Spur's Genius was judged the best in the Tennessee Walking Stallion or Gelding class.

Midnight Merry Bird is considered by horsemen to be one of the finest Tennessee Walking horses to be exhibited in this area.

Dr. Thompson purchased the horse June 30 from the Quarter Circle Ranch, Colorado, with Harold Wise of Lewisburg, Tenn., the selling agent.

In 1952 Midnight Merry Bird was the world champion two-year-old; in 1953 the horse was the world champion 3-year-old junior mare; in both 1954 and 1955 the horse was the aged mare champion and in 1954 was the Ladies' Champion of the world.

Last night was the second show of the season for Dr. Thompson and Midnight Merry Bird. They took first place at the Metropolis fair in July. They will show at the Illinois State Fair.

What Makes Stassen Tick?

Editorial — By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Harold E. Stassen is a very special political phenomenon on the American scene. More than most men, he has clung to presidential ambitions through all adversity.

To understand that what possibly help one to grasp some thread of meaning in his bold, solitary effort to induce the Republican party to dump Vice President Nixon as 1956 nominee.

His proposal that the GOP pick instead Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts is on its face a puzzling move.

There is no question that opposition to Nixon exists within the Republican fold. But at all time it has been almost formless. From the outset key party leaders stood with Nixon, and President Eisenhower himself has more than once indicated his satisfaction with the young Californian as a two-time running mate.

In the light of these facts, Nixon's 1956 nomination has been considered for months a foregone conclusion. His critics within the party clearly had no plan to sidetrack him, nor any illusion they could bring it off if they tried.

Some might hazard that perhaps Stassen was chosen to front for Nixon's detractors, and that this shows they at last do have a plan. That doesn't make political sense. No politicians who know their game would launch such a campaign so long as there was the slightest chance it would run afoul of the President's wishes. Nixon's critics are in the GOP's liberal wing, but these men are also Mr. Eisenhower's most loyal followers.

Stassen said he had discussed his Herter proposal with the President. But the latter, through his press secretary, quickly dissociated himself from the idea. He went to the extreme of saying Stassen couldn't speak for the President's official family if he chose to make public his suggestion.

The evidence strongly indicates that Stassen was alone in this. But why did he choose to go out on this quaking limb?

In the absence of evidence to the contrary, one must conclude, tentatively at least, that Stassen seeks political advantage for himself in this maneuver. This is where it helps to realize he has never quite put aside his own White House ambitions.

When he was in the Pacific as a naval officer in 1944, he allowed friends to nurture his candidacy in absentia. Four years later he was a full-fledged candidate and for a while seemed a possible nominee. In 1952 he tried again, but the Taft-Eisenhower rivalry was the main show and most experts thought Stassen foolish to run.

Since then he has often dropped broad hints of his continuing availability, as he serves Mr. Eisenhower in various roles. Perhaps he now believes his future prospects have once more brightened, and seeks to enhance them by currying favor with the wing of the party to which he is considered attached.

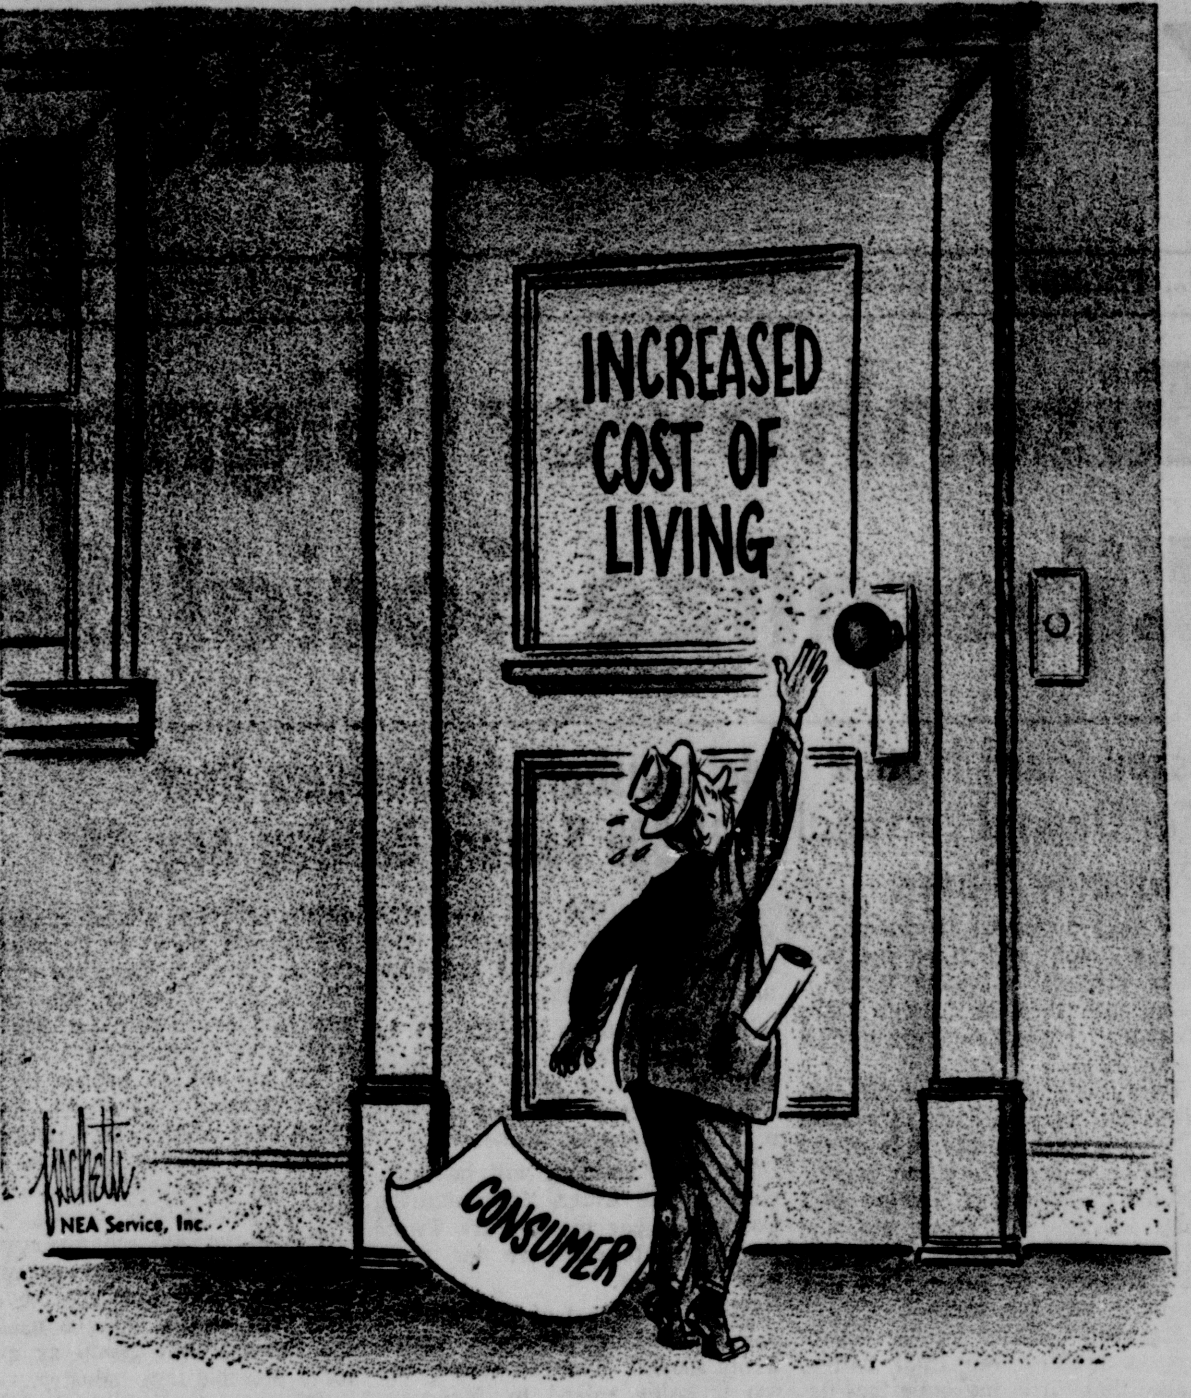

Many observers have long rated him dead politically. But if he was not, their feeling today would be that he may just have jumped off a cliff.

Getting Harder to Get Into Your Own House

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Dulles Has Appeared Egypt; Commander Of Vice-Ridden Georgia City Gets Army Gate; Gen. Richard Mayo Tried To Clean Up Camp Stewart, Ga.; He Got 44 Gambblers Indicted But Also Got Enmity Of Potent Local Sheriff.

WASHINGTON. — In the 1936-39 period when Adolph Hitler was gobbling up key areas of Europe, it was Great Britain and the umbrella-carrying Sir Neville Chamberlain who did the appeasing. The United States demanded a tough policy.

Today as President Nasser of Egypt bites off the Suez Canal and threatens Israel, it is the British who demand a tough policy. United States has done most of the appeasing.

Just one year ago, Secretary of Agriculture Benson proposed in a cabinet meeting to sell surplus American cotton on the world market at whatever price he could get. The proposal was blocked by John Foster Dulles on the ground it would hurt our friends abroad, especially Egypt.

This was in August, 1955, approximately one month after Col. Nasser had informed U. S. Ambassador Byrond in Egypt that he was trading Egypt's surplus cotton to Czechoslovakia for Communist arms.

In other words, the United States not only did little about stopping the Egyptian-Czech barter deal but actually refrained from selling our own cotton for fear of hurting Egypt.

Southern congressmen at that time were pushing Secretary Benson to curtail our growing cotton surplus by selling it abroad at below parity prices. Benson wanted to sell, but Dulles said no.

When the inside story of United States-Egyptian relations is written, it will also become known that former U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery was instrumental in getting the Suez Canal turned over to Egypt. Caffery was so pro-Egyptian, during the British hassle over the canal, that Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Minister Eden both complained to Washington about his conduct.

CRIME PREVENTION DOESN'T PAY

This is a story about an Army officer who fought vice in Georgia and lost. It's a story that you don't like to write, but which has to be written.

Brig. Gen. Richard W. Mayo retired yesterday after 30 years in the Army, and after fighting an uphill battle to clean out the honky-tonks, the slot machines and the prostitutes that waylay soldiers outside Fort Stewart, an area described as the Phenix City of Georgia.

A West Point graduate, Gen. Mayo was transferred to Camp in 1953 where he found the VD rate the highest in the Army. Whereas the average Army VD rate was 67 VD cases per 1,000 men, Camp Stewart's rate was 428 cases per thousand. He launched a clean-up.

Camp Stewart is located 45 miles from Savannah, near the tiny town of Hinesville. GI's leaving the camp's gate had to walk through "combat alley," a row of dives where barmaids in shorts serve whiskey and seduce soldiers.

Responsible for law enforcement in this area is Sheriff Paul Sikes, who has given Liberty county the reputation of being as wide-open as its name. Gen. Mayo's clean-up hit directly at Sheriff Sikes who is a political supporter of Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, powerful chairman of the Senate Armed Services committee.

A grand jury, called to consider Gen. Mayo's demands for a clean-up, indicted 44 and charged that Sheriff Sikes "knowingly failed and neglected" to enforce the law.

The sheriff was called to Atlanta for an ouster hearing before Gov. Talmadge, but suffered a heart attack. He never attended that hearing or any other. Each time the governor called a hearing, the sheriff was ill. Three years passed. The sheriff never did face an ouster hearing, but he was well enough to continue being sheriff and to be re-elected in the spring of this year.

QUEER POLITICS

Meanwhile some queer political maneuvers occurred to get the vice-fighting general out of Georgia. One day Gen. Alexander Bolling, commander of Third Army, telephoned him.

"I've received a call from Washington that you've been offered command of Fort Totten," he said. "Did you ask your senator to get you out of here?"

Mayo had not. He said he liked Camp Stewart, wanted to clean it up, even though Fort Totten on Long Island is considered a prize post. The mysterious move to get him out of Camp Stewart was never cleared up. Gen. Mayo suspected it developed through local politicians and Senator Russell of the Senate Armed Services committee.

Meanwhile, Sheriff Sikes had gone to Congressman Prince Res-ton to try to get Mayo transferred. Preston refused to intervene. He also asked local assemblyman Roscoe Denmark to introduce resolution in the Georgia legislature asking for Mayo's recall. Denmark did not cooperate.

But in October, 1954, Mayo came up before the Army Selection Board for promotion from brigadier to major general. Friends on the selection board said they recommended him. But nothing happened. His name would have come before Senator Russell. Higher-up in the Pentagon never let it go that far.

SHERIFF WINS OUT

Meanwhile, Sheriff Sikes, re-elected in April, said he would end the career of General Mayo. He said. Or at least somebody did. Senator Russell denies that he had anything to do with General Mayo, has also told Georgia friends of Mayo that he could not intervene on Mayo's behalf.

Russell did, however, help to get Camp Stewart transferred from a temporary base or camp to a permanent fort; though General Mayo had warned that unless the area was cleaned up it might not become a fort. When this was accomplished, Russell sent a special telegram to Sheriff Sikes informing him of the victory.

So Mayo, with 30 years service and a brilliant record, was retired.

"He won plaudits for his magnificent struggle against the elements which play on the military population," wrote General Bolling, his commanding officer.

"He is an outstandingly competent officer who applies himself with vigor," wrote Gen. Tom Hickey of the General Staff.

Yet when he came before the Army Selection Board a second time, he was passed over. So yesterday General Mayo finally

Lower Skirt Lengths Shown in Paris Fashions

PARIS (AP)—Skirt lengths as low as eight inches from the floor are the most startling innovations of the week-long fashion shows which ended here Tuesday.

To a lesser degree, the new roundness and volume of the 1956 Paris silhouette, was also revolutionary fashion news. So, for autumn and winter clothes, the "shape," as French dressmakers see it, should be:

Shoulders—Wider and rounder. Sleeves are set in on the arm rather than the shoulder or raglan style.

Bust—More or less normal although the ample fullness of the shoulder also rounds the bust.

Waist—Never at home. High waists are still fashionable but the beltline sometimes drops down just below the normal level. However most styles are at least eased in at the natural waistline.

Hips—Rounded by shirred or gathered skirts but otherwise slim.

Two types of clothing made a sensational comeback—the dress and the cape. American buyers think the dress will be the biggest fashion news in the states this year, according to Miss Betsy Blankwell of Mademoiselle magazine.

'Great Emotional Anguish'

NEW YORK (AP)—Sidney Held, 52, an insurance broker, filed a claim for $25,000 in damages against the city Monday for the "great emotional anguish" he suffered while wrongly receiving a ticket for illegal parking. He said the meter was out of order.

Tips on Traffic Safety

Secretary of State

Many times you've heard about the driver who has the wrong mental attitude when behind a steering wheel. Just what type of driver is he? Perhaps you'll recognize some one you know in the following groups.

There are those drivers who are certain that an accident will happen to another fellow, but never to them. They seem to think they are smarter, or luckier, than the other fellow. They are convinced that accident victims are not very intelligent. And they are just as sure that they themselves are immune.

DON'T BELIEVE THAT ACCIDENTS CAN ONLY HAPPEN TO "THE OTHER FELLOW"

Then, too, there are drivers who believe that an accident happens or it doesn't. It is their philosophy that accidents are inevitable when the time comes. Could it be that they are attempting to alibi their own carelessness? They will never believe that accidents don't "happen," they are "caused!"

Close to the above mentioned group are those drivers who write off accidental death and injury to the law of averages. To them the motorist is doomed to death or injury on the highway despite precaution merely because of the factor of chance. Here again we have drivers who will never believe that accidents don't "happen," they are "caused!"

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Aluminum Strike Could Close Fluorspar Mine

ROSICLARE, Ill. (AP)—The aluminum strike may shut down one of southern Illinois' fluorspar mines if it lasts long enough.

Walter Skeels, manager of the Alcoa Mining Co. fluorspar mine here, said the mine produces fluorspar for the Aluminum Company of America's St. Louis plant.

Other fluorspar mines in the Hardin County area largely supply the steel industry.

Skeels said that the Alcoa Mining Co. successfully negotiated a new two-year contract Tuesday night with District 50, United Mine Workers of America. The contract covers 250 employees. He said the contract gives the fluorspar mine the highest wage rates in the industry.

A 7-cent hourly increase was effective today. Workers will get another 7 cents next Aug. 1. Skeels said the contract also calls for better vacation, seniority and leave provisions for employees.

Wage rates under the new contract will range from $1.65 to $1.88 per hour for different classifications.

RIGHT OUT OF THE CATALOG. This 1905 Sears, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Leathers of Carmi, is another of the antique automobiles to be displayed during the intermission of the Saline County Beauty Pageant tonight at the county fair. The Sears was manufactured by Sears-Roebuck and shipped to the purchaser crated up just like the horse-drawn buggies were shipped at the time. It was sold on a 10-day free trial. Its 2-cylinder air-cooled motor would move it along at 12 to 15 miles per hour, and it sported kerosene lanterns for headlights. At least a dozen antiques are expected for the automobile show, and the sponsoring Harrisburg Jaycees promise plenty of entertainment for the evening.

America's Typical Stockholder Advises Buying Stocks to Combat Communism

NEW YORK (AP)—Buy stocks to fight communism, America's typical stockholder told the United Press today.

Donald M. Kuehl, his wife Celia and their two children—Eloise and Don—of Elkhart, Ind., were tracked down by the New York Stock Exchange in its search for the family which exactly fitted the specifications derived from its recent survey of the nation's stockholders.

They are typical because the elder Kuehls are both 48 years old, high school graduates, owners of a few stock issues, residents in a town of 32,000 and have family income of less than $7,500. Thus the exchange brought to life a statistic arrived at in its 1956 census of just what manner of man owns stock.

Statisticians, using the exchange survey as a base, plotted the geographical center of stockholder strength, and up came the live statistics of the typical stockholder family—the little fellows who own America's giant industries.

The Kuehls came to New York last week as guests of the exchange, and toured the financial center of the world.

Kuehl said his wife took the first plunge into the market before they were married back in the 20s. She bought a share in a utility company "and it just kept splitting."

Kuehl, in an interview, said "business is going to get better and better," and urged "average Americans" to invest in their country's industry "as the best way to fight communism."

He said he bought his first stock in 1948 on the advice of a friend, and today, he added, he has "sound diversified holdings" in six issues: Utility, automotive, mining, communication, construction and finance.

Except for one minor detail the family fits the exchange's profile of the typical American owner of the nation's business to a "T." The Kuehls own six issues of stock, while according to the census the average American shareholder has only 4.2 issues.

Girl, 14, Runs Away from Home to Seek Elvis Presley

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Two Memphis newsmen tracked down early today a 14-year-old Long Island girl who said she ran away from home with her baby sitting money because she was in love with Elvis Presley. She said her parents wouldn't let her play his rock 'n' roll records any more.

Marian Esther Weisbarth, East Meadow, N. Y., has never met the bump and grind singer. But she said "I thought if I came to Memphis I might become his secretary—or something."

She said she ran away from home Thursday and hopped a night bus to Memphis because she knew Presley spent a lot of time there. Presley now is in Miami.

two children in an eight-room house. The mortgage has been paid off.

He is district sales manager for the South Bend Tribune, and she is a "full-time" housewife. He's a Republican, she's a Democrat.

They own a car and on their vacation drive to Florida in the "off season" to save money.

The average score of the typical bowler is 154. According to the American Bowling Congress, of more than 2,000,000 bowlers questioned, only one-tenth of one per cent had an average of 200 or better.

The U. S. Forest Service says one in every five forestry plantings in North Dakota has been damaged by livestock grazing. The plantings were made by the federal government from 1935 to 1942.

Turtle Talk
Although the voices of most turtles are at best a slight squeak or sigh, the wood turtle (ranging from Maine to West Virginia) makes a whistling call that is audible 30 or 40 feet away.

Stevenson's First Ballot Strength Edges Toward 500; 200 More May Swing Over

WASHINGTON (UP) — Adlai E. Stevenson's first ballot strength climbed toward the 500 mark today and potentially 200 more early ballot votes could be seen for him among favorite son and uncommitted delegations.

To win the Democratic presidential nomination, Stevenson or the man who beats him must poll at least 686 2/3 votes at the Democratic National Convention.

Stevenson's campaign headquarters already claimed a minimum of 600 first ballot votes and said that almost any two of the large state delegations which are uncommitted or pledged to favorite son candidates could throw the nomination to Stevenson.

A Big Lift

The withdrawal of Sen. Estes Kefauver Tuesday in favor of Stevenson gave the Stevenson campaign its biggest lift since the California primary.

Gov. Averell Harriman's managers still talked of getting a substantial bloc of the Kefauver votes, but a bandwagon swing to Stevenson seemed to be under way. Former Democratic National Chairman Frank McKinney, a Harriman supporter, predicted the New Yorker will poll 450 first ballot votes.

A United Press tabulation of known first ballot preferences showed Stevenson with 485 1/2 votes against 166 1/2 for Harriman.

A still-incomplete resurvey of the Kefauver delegates shifted at least 20 of the 26 Indiana votes from Kefauver to Stevenson and all 18 of those from Maryland. Kefauver had won both delegations in uncontested primaries.

Civil Rights Question

In Minnesota, where Kefauver defeated Stevenson in a March primary, Harriman picked up 8 1/2 of Kefauver's 26 votes and Stevenson

6 1/2 with the remainder undecided. Ten and one-half scattered Kefauver votes in other states were transferred to Harriman and 16 1/2 to Stevenson.

More than half of the 28 Kefauver votes from Wisconsin were expected to jump to Stevenson. The Tennessee also won those in an uncontested primary.

The Kefauver withdrawal looked like the move which could throw the nomination to Stevenson if the party does not tear itself apart at Chicago in its quadrennial fight over a civil rights plank in the platform. Much of Stevenson's strength lies in the South, which can still explode over the racial issue in the platform.

500 Persons Attend Funeral for Boy

VALPARAISO, Ind. (UP) — Five hundred persons packed the First Nazarene Church Wednesday afternoon for the funeral of a boy who almost made death step aside for a soap box derby race.

The boy was Doug Hoback, 13, who died of lung cancer Sunday, just 24 hours after a pre-race accident eliminated him from the Gary Soap Box Derby.

Six of Doug's friends from his soap box racing days served as pallbearers, and the procession to Graceland Cemetery for burial was believed one of the longest in Valparaiso history.

Former Gay Lothario Dies Alone In State Hospital, But Not Loveless

CHICAGO (UP) — Services were held here today for Sigmund Engel, former gay lothario whose eye was attracted by the pocketbooks of rich widows.

Engel, 84, died Wednesday in a state hospital at Kankakee, Ill. He entered the hospital with the advancement of senility after stays at other state institutions. Engel was sentenced in 1950 to 2-to-10 years in state prison on convictions of a charge that he bilked a red-headed widow out of $7,800.

Although Engel died alone, he apparently was not loveless. A Chicago undertaker handling funeral arrangements revealed the international Romeo's interment was being financed by a New York woman named Pauline.

The woman was believed to be Engel's "one true wife," Mrs. Pauline (Polly) Langton, who stood by him at his trial but finally divorced Engel in 1953.

Soon after Engel was arrested on the complaint which led to his conviction, Mrs. Langton flew here to be at his side and comfort him. She joined suit, however, with other victims to claim $5,000 later discovered by jailguards sewn in Engel's underclothing.

Engel freely recalled his exploits and his money-hungry wooing. Basically, he was interested only in money. He once told newsmen, "My favorite color is green."

Engel was to be buried in Waldheim cemetery here.

LEICESTER, England (UP) — A British churchman today called for legislation to jail all homewreckers, including the pet office secretary who steals her middle-aged boss from his wife and children.

"A burglar who is caught is imprisoned and made to return his loot," the Rev. L. G. Gillespie of Holy Apostles Church wrote in his parish magazine. "Why should a woman who steals a husband go free and keep her swag?"

Two London Correspondents Expelled by Egypt

CAIRO (UP) — Two London newspaper correspondents in Cairo have been expelled from Egypt, and the Egyptian correspondent of the New York Daily News has been ordered to quit his job, it was reported today.

The semi-official Mideast News Agency said the government expelled Sefton Demer, London Daily Express foreign correspondent, and Ray Hardy, Jordanian correspondent for the London New Chronicle, for "attempting to obtain military information affecting national security."

It was also authoritatively reported that Issa Korashi, an Egyptian subject, was ordered to quit his job as correspondent for the New York Daily News.

In New York, the News said the only known complaint against Korashi was that he cabled stories "before information on them was officially announced by the government."

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

Copyright 1956 by Brett Halliday Distributed by NEA Service.

THE STORY: A frightened young woman appeared at Mike Shayne's hotel. She tells the private detective that she found her murdered brother in a room at the Hibiscus Hotel. When she left the room to call for help the body disappeared. Then she was pursued by a scar-faced man.

IX

"He listened for quite a time. Finally he said, 'Thanks, Ollie. Any time I can give you a hand—' He hung up and returned to his chair with a scowl."

"The house detective at the Hibiscus gives it about the way you tell it. The first part, that is. They don't know anything about you being chased out of the hotel. They had the call you say you made from 350 about a murdered man and went there first because the switchboard girl thought you must mean that room instead of 316 which she first thought you said. But they checked both rooms carefully and found no body nor any trace of murder. So they didn't report it to the police, naturally. Thinking it was a hoax."

"You think so too, don't you? That I'm just making it all up?" He shrugged noncommittally. "Not necessarily. The man chasing you through the alley sounds real enough. Did the taxi driver happen to see him too?" he added casually.

"Yes, he did. And also the lady who was in the cab when I hailed it. You can ask them both."

"Get the number of the cab or the driver's name?"

"No." "Or the name of the other passenger?"

"No. Oh, you're just as bad as I knew the police would be," she flared out, getting to her feet abruptly and swaying a little. "How can I prove it? I know my brother's been murdered. I saw him. It wasn't any hallucination."

"Sit back down," Shayne said soothingly. "I'm sure you saw something to make you believe that. I'm not denying anything. Let's see if we can figure it out. Is your brother any sort of practical joker?"

"No," she repeated herself. "Because," Shayne said, "there is an old gag that's been pulled off with a bottle of ketchup."

"After the victim's throat has been cut?" she demanded angrily. "Mr. Shayne, I saw the gaping hole."

"Shayne got up and began to stride back and forth across the room. "You didn't go in the first time. Didn't make even a cursory search?"

"No. My only thought was to get to a telephone."

"So the murderer could have been in there—in the bathroom or closet?"

"I suppose so. I didn't look."

"And how long would you say you were gone to find another phone?"

"Not more than two minutes. I think. Three or four at the most. I didn't waste any time going or coming."

Shayne shrugged and said doubtfully, "If it weren't for the man chasing you, I'd think you had some sort of hallucination about seeing your brother. As it is—I still don't see what I can do, but I will go over to the Hibiscus with you and get hold of the house detective and check the whole thing a little more thoroughly than they probably did the first time."

The idea of returning to the Hibiscus appeared to frighten her all over again, and she asked despairingly, "Do I have to? Can't I just be your client, and you do the checking?" Her hands eagerly opened the black suede bag in her lap. "I've got money here. Plenty of cash. I can pay you a retainer."

Shayne shook his head, studying her harassed features carefully. "Right now I'm not at all sure there's any case for me to take a 'retainer on.' He didn't tell her the truth—that he didn't like crazy clients and that he was beginning to suspect she was as nutty as a fruit-cake."

But the look of utter desperation that settled over her at his words moved him to go on hastily, "Suppose I nose around and see what I can find out. If anything has happened to your brother, it'll be time enough to talk about a retainer." He stood up briskly. "I suppose I can reach you at the Roney? What's your name and room number?"

"Do I have to go back there?" She shuddered and her eyes were pleadingly appealing. "Whoever did that to my brother must know where we're staying. I keep seeing that awful, scarred face in my mind. I—I couldn't—I'll just stay here while you go and see?"

Shayne hesitated, his angular face tightening.

"Not unkindly," he said, "I don't think that would be such a good idea, but I've got a much better idea. He crossed to the center of the room and opened a drawer to take out a sheet of his office paper. With a pen he wrote Lucy Hamilton's name and address on it, and added a brief note:

of the bearer. Put your chain on the door and don't let anyone in to her until you hear from me. She may be in great danger. Mike.

He handed it to her to read. "My secretary," he explained. "I'll put you in a taxi for her place. No one can possibly find you there, and I'll know exactly where you are when I need you."

Suddenly he tensed, as if he thought he heard someone in the outside hallway.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

There are fire extinguishers in many convenient locations in the home, factory, in the stores and in many other places where people come and go. There is sand along the highway. There are safety valves on our water tanks and on our furnaces. We have fuses in our electrical systems. We have brakes on our cars.

Lightning rods rise above barns and other buildings. Gates are maintained at railroad crossings. Hospitals exist in thousands of communities. There are lifeguards on our beaches and policemen in every town.

Why do we prepare for fires and sickness and bad weather and crime? Do we want these evil things to take place? No. We believe in being prepared for any emergency. We want to save life. We want to cut down on loss of material things. We believe in protection against destructive forces.

We spend millions of dollars preparing to be ready for the accidents which we hope will never happen. We spend hours and years in getting ready to repair damages and to minimize suffering.

But, so often, in the realm of the spiritual well-being of people we allot minutes to become acquainted with God. We pray briefly. We study God's word sketchily. We apply our religion when it is convenient. We thank God for big gifts and take the little things for granted.

Let us prepare for spiritual emergencies and for daily living with deep appreciation for all that God gives to us.

One Out of Eight Illinois Residents Used Hospitals During 1955

CHICAGO (U)—One out of every eight Illinois residents used a hospital during 1955, the Illinois Hospital Assn. said today.

The association said admissions totaled 1,230,000, about 4 per cent more than the previous year. Nearly 91 per cent of the admissions were to general hospitals.

LITTLE MISS SEVEN—The small-fry beauties got their chances at hoopla and honors in a beauty contest in Sanlando Springs, Fla. Performing under adult rules, the tiny tots competed for the title "Little Miss Seven," with Sharon Berry, of Fruitland Park, Fla., taking the crown.

GOP Chairmen See Nixon Win By Acclamation

WASHINGTON (U)—Chairmen of the Senate and House GOP congressional campaign predicted today Vice President Richard M. Nixon "will be renominated by acclamation" at the convention "despite the irresponsible actions of Harold E. Stassen."

The chairmen made their prediction in a joint statement which dealt another strong blow to Stassen's "Dump Nixon" drive. It came only a few hours before Stassen formally opened Washington headquarters for his campaign to put Massachusetts Gov. Christian A. Herter rather than Nixon in the number two spot on the GOP presidential ticket.

The statement was issued by Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel (Kan), chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, and Rep. Richard M. Simpson (Pa), chairman of a similar House committee.

"It is inconceivable," they said, "that Republican delegates will consider tearing apart a winning ticket (Eisenhower and Nixon)." Stassen today began a four-week leave of absence from his post as President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser to push his drive for Herter without involving the White House.

HOLLYWOOD! MOVIES - TV - RADIO by Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Uncovering Hollywood: Mario Lanza is steaming over a printed report that he's planning to live in Italy permanently because of income tax matters and his weight. "Not a word of truth in it," one of his close business associates told me. "He will probably go to Rome with Betty and the children to star in a remake of 'Be Mine Tonight.' But he's never even thought about living in Italy. He has a wonderful home in Bel Air and he loves his own native land."

MGM wants to hire Dean Martin at $150,000 for a role in Joe Pasternak's new musical comedy, "10,000 Bedrooms." It's the first solo offer to either Dean or Jerry Lewis since they announced the break-up of the team on all but their contractual commitments. But there's still a big hurdle for Dean before he signs the MGM contract. The team's contract with Producer Hal Wallis reportedly says they cannot appear separately in any movie. There could be a court battle on the question.

THE MEXICAN road races this fall will be filmed for a feature movie. Marion Davies is putting up the money. . . . Jimmy Cagney will star in "The Devil's Hornpipe" at U-I. It's a musical by Maxwell Anderson and Rouben Mamoulian.

Trade paper editor William Wilkerson hitting the nail on the head in an editorial about movie stars being born in good pictures: "Hollywood's pioneers spent little time looking for stars. They went out and MADE them in great movies. Today the studios spend too little time on their stories and too much time trying to find names to bail them out."

This is Hollywood, Mrs. Jones: Ava Gardner plays a doll stranded on a South Pacific Island in "The Little Hut." So guess who designed a palm leaf skirt and bra for her—Christian Dior!

NOT IN THE SCRIPT: Leo Ross, president of a Minneapolis theater chain says "If something isn't done soon to bring people back into the show houses, we'll all be out of business because we don't have enough money to pay running expenses. The film industry should set aside $200,000,000 a year to sell movies in theaters to the public again."

The Witnet: Red Skelton, ex-

Claude Jarman, Jr., who 10 years ago starred in "The Yearling," enters Navy officers' candidate school in Newport, R. I., this fall. He recently graduated from Vanderbilt. . . . Martha Raye returned to Las Vegas for her usual summer night club date—and her usual summer dates with Lee Riddle, a dealer at the Sahara Hotel. . . . Sign-of-the-times Dauphin telefilms, "Paris Precinct," are turning up as theater shorts in Paris.

FRANKIE LAINE is the money man behind a new drive-in theater on 36 acres of land near San Antonio, Texas. . . . Mrs. Clark Gable's heart attack will keep her in bed until September. She's just home from the hospital. . . . The "Charge It" system of movie going turned out to be a flop in a test run in New Jersey. But it seems to be working well at a drive-in theater in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

OUT OUR WAY

Avoid Quarrels by Family Compromises

PHILADELPHIA — "The inability to compromise in family squabbles is at the bottom of most domestic trouble," says Ralph Ormsby, executive director of the Family Service of Philadelphia.

For his verification, Ormsby looks to a survey of 4,551 cases handled last year by the Family Service, a Red Feather agency.

He says a good rule to observe when family differences come up is to "think more in terms of 'we'

and less often of 'I.'" "Quite often," says he, "difficulties also come up when a family moves to a new neighborhood, or is beset with sudden illness, financial loss or housing troubles. Even the strongest may feel frightened and abandoned without friends or relatives to turn to."

Ertons Report Property Sales

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davenport have bought and will occupy soon the residential property at 1200 South Jackson street, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Clint Jones. Erton Real Estate, by which the deal was closed, stated today that the Joneses now occupy a new residence at their Dixie Motel on U. S. 45.

This sale and that of the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Metten, who have moved to Chicago, to Mr. and Mrs. John F. Beasley, is reported by the Ertons. The Beasleys are moving to their new home at 612 North Webster street.

At Raleigh the property formerly owned by Mrs. Pearl Hise has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McConnell, Alton, following removal of Mrs. Hise and daughter, Ella, to Arlington, Va.

Question Ex-Partner of Olds In Hodge Case

SPRINGFIELD — A former business partner of H. Kendall Olds was called for questioning today about a check which may have been connected with Olds' death.

At the same time, seven additional "suspicious" checks totaling about $260,000 came to light in the investigation of the million-dollar scandal in the office of ex-State Auditor Orville E. Hodge.

Edward J. Loneragan, former partner of Olds whose body was found in Lake Springfield Wednesday, was called in by State's Atty. George P. Coutarakon.

Loneragan was questioned about a 1953 check for $3,175 made out to Capital Press Service, in which he and Olds were partners until Olds went to work for Hodge in 1953.

Olds learned the check had come to light the night before his body was found.

Loneragan said he had cashed the check for Hodge at Olds' request.

He said Olds had told him Hodge needed cash for a trip he was taking and that he had to get a check cashed before the banks closed for the day.

Drawn On Trust Fund

Loneragan said he and Olds gave the money from the check to Hodge and he was certain Olds did not get any of the money.

Albert E. Jenner, special assistant attorney general who reported discovery of the check Tuesday, said it appeared to have been drawn on the state unclaimed property trust fund.

Hodge has been charged in a federal indictment with misapplication of about $356,000 from this fund.

Meanwhile, John S. Rendleman, another special assistant attorney general, disclosed that seven more checks made out to Southmoor Bank and Trust Co., Chicago, have turned up in the inquiry.

He said these checks also appeared to have been drawn on the unclaimed property trust fund.

Rendleman was asked if these checks might not be legitimate and be a result only of an effort by Hodge to transfer part of the fund from the Springfield Marine Bank to the Southmoor bank.

He replied that this was "very doubtful" and that the checks were "suspicious."

50,000 Gather For Convention By Illinois Legion

CHICAGO — More than 50,000 legionnaires gathered here today for the opening session of the Illinois American Legion's 58th annual convention.

Seventeen committees started sifting through proposed resolutions at the County Building prior to the first full general session at Orchestra Hall today.

J. Addington Wagner, Battle Creek, Mich., national commander of the Legion, was scheduled to give the major address at today's meeting.

The schedule also included welcoming addresses by Gov. William G. Stratton and Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Harvey V. Higley, veterans administrator, will address a special joint meeting of the Legion and the Legion Auxiliary Friday night. The convention will be climaxed Sunday by a mile-long parade through downtown streets.

Proposes Change in Illinois Law on Auditor's Duties

CHICAGO (UP)—State Sen. Elbert S. Smith today proposed a change in the Illinois constitution so the state auditor has "the job of doing the auditing, and nothing more."

The Decatur Republican, named GOP candidate for auditor after Orville E. Hodge resigned in disgrace, said "I strongly recommend" that the 1957 Legislature approve a constitutional amendment to provide that the auditor shall not "handle money or issue checks."

Britain Tells Nationals to Leave Egypt

LONDON — Britain told its 5,700 nationals in Egypt today to leave unless they had "compelling" reasons to remain, and the State Department warned 1,500 Americans there to keep in touch with the U. S. embassy.

Britain and France took precautionary military measures in the eastern Mediterranean while the Western Big Three foreign ministers met in London in search of a diplomatic solution to the Suez Canal crisis.

France ordered a fleet of 20 warships headed by the battleship Jean Bart to sail for an unannounced destination, presumably to reinforce the battle-ready British Mediterranean fleet. Other British ships and troops were alerted.

Both British and American officials stressed that a mass evacuation of the American and British nationals in Egypt had not been ordered.

Diplomatic efforts by the Big Three foreign ministers centered on calling an international conference to decide the future status of the Suez Canal. They were faced today with hammering out a firm date, place and guest list for such a meeting.

Attorney Says Union Supports Du Quoin Workers

CHICAGO (UP)—The attorney for the International Packinghouse Workers' Union today said the organization is "100 per cent behind" its Du Quoin, Ill., local.

A National Labor Relations Board trial examiner, Eugene Dixon, ruled the local guilty of unfair labor practices and recommended the group's 156 members return to their jobs until they comply with provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Dixon claimed the local, employed at the Du Quoin Packing Co., called a strike 110 days ago without giving proper notice to the Illinois Labor Department and the Federal Mediation Service.

Eugene Cotton, attorney for the international, said the union plans to file exceptions to this ruling. Cotton said the local notified both the federal government and the packing company of its intentions to strike, and that only an oversight prevented the Illinois Labor Department from receiving the notice.

To Arraign Three Suspects on Bank Robbery Charges

CAMPBELL HILL, Ill. (UP)—Three suspects seized shortly after the $3,000 robbery of the First State Bank here were to be arraigned on federal bank robbery charges today.

The suspects were apprehended 90 minutes after the bank robbery at a roadblock north of Chester in Randolph County Wednesday.

FBI agents said the three men denied robbing the bank, but would be taken to East St. Louis for arraignment. Bank personnel also were to identify the suspects.

They were identified as George Linder, 25, of near East St. Louis; Richard Townsend, 19, East St. Louis, and Dee Davis, 39, Lexington, Ky.

Two bandits entered the bank shortly after it opened Wednesday and demanded that cashier Edward Knop open the safe. When Knop said a timing device would not open the safe for 30 minutes, the bandits grabbed money from a cash drawer in a teller's cage and fled. Police said a third man apparently was waiting in a get-away car.

Navy to Build Research Station At South Pole

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Navy announced today it will plant the U. S. flag at the South Pole in October and begin building a scientific research station there. It hopes to have the station manned and operating by January.

The Navy disclosed plans for its polar station in a comprehensive outline of the schedule for its second expedition to the Antarctic in connection with preparations for the 1957-58 International Geophysical Year.

Operation Deep Freeze II will be a far more ambitious Antarctic sortie than Operation Deep Freeze I last year. The Navy announced that more than 3,000 men will embark in 12 ships, leaving the East and West coasts between September and December to build a group of scientific stations, support bases and air facilities.

In addition, 38 Navy and Air Force aircraft will be employed.

Quell Uprising In Honduras In Bitter Fighting

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UP)—An uprising against Supreme Chief of State Julio Lozano was crushed Wednesday in a six-hour battle which took place virtually on the doorstep of the U. S. Embassy, it was announced today.

Reliable sources said at least 12 persons were killed and 40 wounded in the bitter fighting at the St. Francis Barracks in central Tegucigalpa, across the street from the embassy.

Unconfirmed reports said the dead included Maj. Juan P. Silva, military leader of the revolt.

The embassy staff escaped injury in the uprising. The embassy building was not damaged.

Reports reaching El Salvador said "hundreds of persons" were arrested in Tegucigalpa in the wake of the revolt, while an unspecified number of opposition politicians have claimed asylum in embassies there.

The government blamed the uprising on supporters of liberal leader Ramon Villeda Morales, who was exiled last month along with four lesser officials of the opposition party.

Two East Germans Swim to Freedom

STOCKHOLM (UP)—Two East Germans braved treacherous currents, freezing water, and mountainous seas Wednesday to swim a mile to freedom here.

The men jumped overboard from the East German trawler October Revolution when the craft hove to near Ven Island seeking protection against heavy seas.

Authorities said they barely made it ashore. Their names were not given, but they were said to be 30 and 19 years old. The men told Swedish authorities that life was "unbearable" in Communist East Germany.

IN LE TOURNEAU'S "NOW" magazine is an item about two slayers and both young and old should read it. The item goes like this:

TWO SLAYERS

Two condemned murderers faced firing squads in Utah, Friday, May 11. The pair paid the penalty which the law demanded for the slaying of a young service station attendant during a holdup.

During their final hours, the condemned pair issued a joint statement to the press in which they said they did not protest their punishment.

They wrote: "We wish to say, in partial excuse for ourselves, that we did not have a fair chance in life. Coming from broken homes, we grew up in neglect. In youth we were denied parental care, affection and guidance.

"Religious training would have pointed us in the right direction, but we were not taken to Sunday School or to church services. While in prison during the long years of waiting, we have tried to build up in our souls what was lacking. We now try to accept our severe punishment with true religious resignation."

The concluding sentence of their statement was: "May our tragic lives and ending serve as a warning to all—young and old."

Parents, above all, should heed this solemn warning: for your responsibility toward your sons and daughters is not being fulfilled if you are not taking them to Sunday School and to church services, where they can hear the gospel of Christ.

And parents who are considering breaking up their homes, should bear in mind that the children are the greatest sufferers. By breaking up the home, you may become responsible if your children become criminals and are imprisoned and executed.

Sunday School superintendents and teachers should heed the warning also . . .

Alcoa Signs Contract with 15,000 Workers

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Aluminum Company of America and the Aluminum Workers Union today signed a three-year contract which stopped the spread of a nationwide aluminum strike.

The package 46 cents an hour agreement keeps 15,000 Alcoa workers on the job. But some 28,000 United Steelworkers continued their two-day strike which has shut off 50 per cent of the nation's aluminum production and has closed down 21 plants of Alcoa and the Reynolds Metals Co.

The Alcoa-AWU pact, reached Wednesday night minutes before a midnight strike deadline, is patterned on a three-year, no strike settlement reached in the basic steel industry. The AWU contract was signed early this morning.

No hope was seen for a quick settlement of the USW strike against Alcoa and Reynolds. Alcoa officials said the company's talks with the USW had "completely broken off" with no meetings planned.

The Alcoa-AWU no-strike pact provides for a three year package increase of about 46 cents an hour, including a direct pay hike of 24.5 cents an hour. The AWU workers would get a 9.5 cent an hour hike the first year, 7 cents an hour the second year and an 8 cents an hour pay raise the third year.

The average aluminum worker pay before the pact was $2.22 an hour.

Cardinals Trace Plight to Lane's Trades

Key Men Red Birds Need Now Were Swapped Away

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Members, associates and followers of the Cardinals are sizzling about Frank Lane deals they contend dealt the St. Louis club out of the National League race.

The three they squawk loudest about sent: Brooks Lawrence and another pitcher, Sonny Senerchia, now with Seattle, to the Reds for Jackie Collum.

Harvey Haddix, Stu Miller, Ben Flowers and Solly Hemus to the Phillies for Murray Dickson, Herman Wehmeier and Bobby Morgan.

Bill Virdon to the Pirates for Bobby Del Greco and Dick Littlefield.

Lawrence has won 15 for the Redlegs and Hershell Freeman, picking him up, saved six more for a total of 21. The Cincinnati club would be nowhere without this pair.

Freddie Hutchinson obviously had nothing to do with the swapping of Lawrence, who was assigned to the Rhineland in late January.

"I saw him in the Pacific Coast League and he looked great," says Manager Hutchinson.

"Lane at least might have taken a look at Lawrence in spring training," the older Red Birds complain. "He developed ulcers after winning 15 for us in the last half of the 1954 season."

THE CARDINALS SEE the seven-player swap with the Phillies as having turned out to be little more than Haddix, once more the best left-hander in the NL, for Dickson. And Haddix, who also hits and runs well enough to be used in pinches, is 10 years younger than Dickson.

"A club with a center and right fielder who can't throw is sentenced to the second division," reminds Terry Moore, the Cardinals' remarkable center fielder of happier days who is now a coach.

The Red Birds' trouble has been the lack of a big pitcher like Lawrence and outfielders who can hit, close the gap and throw. Even the loyal Hutchinson admits that the passing along of Virdon might have been a mistake.

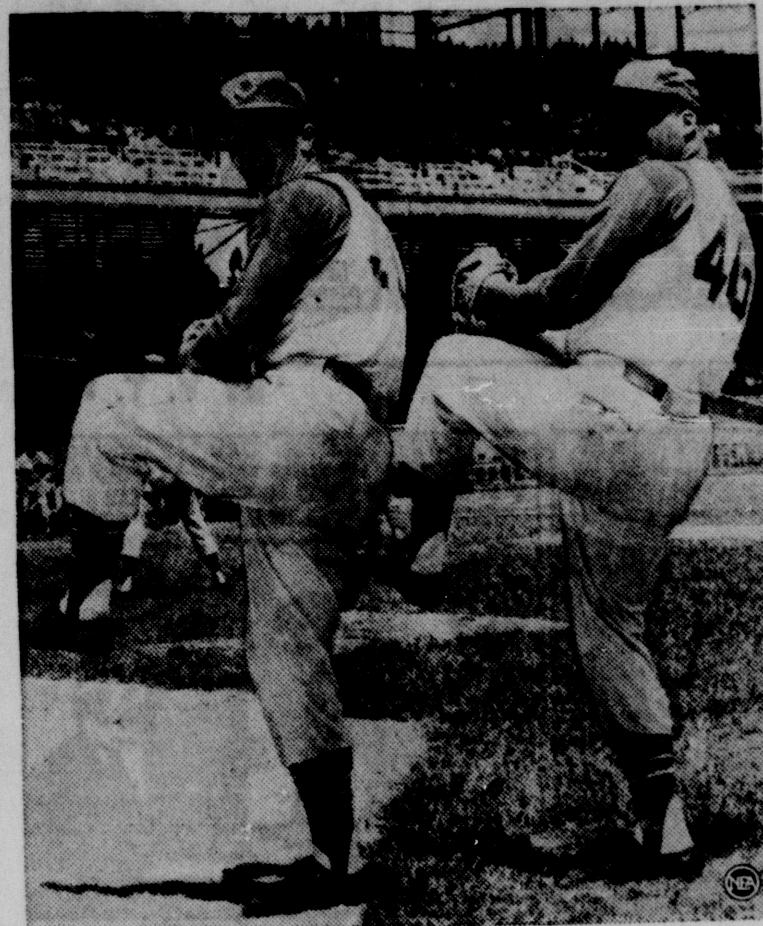

The bespectacled Virdon was so satisfactory in center field that he was chosen recruit of the year in 1955 and he's batting .300 for Pittsburgh. Del Greco and Charley Peete are highly acceptable defensively, but they can't be hidden at bat even when alternated.

THE CARDINALS, who got off well, point out that none of the barters were necessary until Red Schoendienst, Jackie Brandt, Bill Sarni and Littlefield went to the Giants for Alvin Dark, Whitey Lockman, Ray Katt and Don Liddle. Not a few suspected that Trader Lane traded the Cardinals into their first pennant in 10 years with this exchange, made just before the deadline.

While Dark has stood up at shortstop, the Red Birds have lost ground, and the players feel that the brilliant prospect, Brandt, gave the Polo Grounders all the best of it. The New York club also landed a better catcher than it gave away.

The Cards also did not approve of the deal that shipped Alex Grammas and Joe Frazier to the Reds for Chuck Harmon, now with Omaha.

While it required courage for Frank Lane to trade while the club was winning, the Cardinals make it clear that they would prefer a general manager who could stand prosperity.

ENTRY — Hershell Freeman, left, did a magnificent job of finishing what Brooks Lawrence started, but more recently the all-around athlete of Miami of Ohio hasn't required any help.

Two former Galatia high school coaches have changed schools since the close of the 1955-56 term.

Bob Farris, coach for three years at Galatia and later top coach at Coulterville, will be assistant football and basketball coach at Sparta.

Farris has just recently completed work for his Master's degree in physical education at Indiana University.

Glen Dunn, who came to Galatia from Mounds City, will be assistant coach in all sports at Sesser high school this coming term, it is reported.

Dunn probably will see one of the regulars at Galatia last year in the cage squad when practice gets underway at Sesser. It is reported that Larry Manker, play maker for last season's Galatia cagers, will enroll at the Sesser high school when the coming term starts.

Larry's father, a miner, has employment near Sesser and the family will move there, according to reports.

I haven't heard personally from Ollie Rollins, the Carrier Mills Globe Trotter, for several weeks but was told yesterday in Carrier Mills that friends had received several letters this week from Germany. The "Big Cat" is getting around!

Noticed in a recent edition of The Daily Register that Hal Killebrew of Cairo had been employed to teach a couple of subjects and assist in football and spring sports at HTHS.

Back in late October, 1950, Cairo came to Eldorado to play a football game and it turned out to be about the most thrilling this writer has ever witnessed. Eldorado won 22-21 on a last second pass.

The Daily Register account of the game stated Cairo's attack was headed by a 190-pound senior named Killebrew. He scored two touchdowns, three extra points, acted as the "sleeper" on another touchdown play and just about wrecked the Eldorado squad in a great one-man performance.

Wilson Blasts Big 10 Attack by Magazine Writer

CHICAGO — Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, commissioner of the Big Ten conference, today returned the fire of a magazine writer who accused him of "pussy-footing" around charges of irregularities in the conference.

Wilson charged that Daniel D. Mich, editorial director of Look magazine, made the accusation in order to build sales of the magazine.

"It's his job to build circulation for the magazine," Wilson said, when informed of Mich's statement.

He said he was surprised at the "furor" aroused by the article. This may have resulted from the failure to explain that the aid was based on scholarship, he said.

"Athletes are on the same basis as other students, such as debaters or band men," he said. In 1955, he said, aids given to Big Ten students amounted to $2,850,000, of which $348,688 was received by athletes.

He said that the Big Ten schools grant all aid and "that there has been no intimation of any form of outside, or undercover, aid."

To receive the complete cost of his education, an athlete, must first of all have been in the upper third of his high school class.

He must then maintain his grades in college midway between B and C.

An athlete slated to receive tuition only, must have been in the upper half of his high school class and maintain a C average in college.

Carter Wins TKO Over Satterfield In Fifth Round

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — Eager young heavyweight Harold Carter said today his technical knockout of highly-touted Bob Satterfield clears the way "for the fight I want next—a return with Johnny Summerlin."

"Summerlin is tough and he's one of my biggest obstacles," the 23-year-old Carter said after he mauled Satterfield through five rounds and three knockdowns before their televised scheduled 10 rounder was stopped Wednesday night.

Referee Ted Martin stopped the fight at 2:58 of the fifth, as 32-year-old Satterfield slumped to the canvas in a neutral corner for the third time in that round. Judge Paul Cummins and Dick Fazio agreed with Martin that Carter had won all five rounds. The United Press scored it four for Carter and one for Satterfield.

Carter weighed 194 and Satterfield, 185½.

Joe Louis defended his world's heavyweight boxing championship 25 times.

Brooklyn Puts Pressure On Braves With 2-1 Victory; Cards Beat Pirates, 4-1

By United Press

An 85-foot pinch single enabled the Brooklyn Dodgers to claim their biggest victory of the year today and challenge the Milwaukee Braves to "stand up under the pressure of holding first place in a late-season pennant fight."

"Now they've got to show they can do it," said Jackie Robinson after Dale Mitchell's "Baltimore chop" gave the Dodgers a 2-1 decision over the first-place Braves Wednesday night. "We went thru it in 1951 but they haven't had the experience of fighting off a challenger in the stretch."

"When a team gets six games ahead and starts losing it's bound to start feeling the pressure," Dodger Captain PeeWee Reese agreed. "Sometimes a team starts looking for ways to lose games when they have that experience."

Moves Dodgers Up

The victory moved the Dodgers to within three games of the Braves and to within one game of the second-place Cincinnati Redlegs, who suffered a 3-1 loss to the last-place New York Giants. It was the fourth loss in five games for the Braves, who only last Sunday held a 5 1-2 game margin on first place.

The break in Wednesday night's brilliantly-played game came in the eighth inning when Mitchell—making his NL debut—batted for Clem Labine with two out and Robinson on third. Acquired from the Cleveland Indians only last Monday, Mitchell chopped a 1-2 pitch about 35 feet into the air between third base and the mound. Third-baseman Ed Mathews fielded it perfectly but his powerful throw was just too late to retire Mitchell and Robinson scooted home with the winning run.

The Dodgers had scored in the fourth inning on Duke Snider's 26th homer of the year but the Braves tied the score in the eighth when Wes Covington crossed the plate on an error by catcher Roy Campanella. The win was Labin's ninth of the year and second in two nights against Milwaukee.

Phils Beat Cubs

Sal Maglie, also obtained from the Indians this year, held the Braves at bay for 6 1-3 innings before giving way to Labine.

Ruben Gomez and Marv Grissom yielded one hit each as the Giants made it two out of three over the Redlegs. Gomez doubled and scored the run that broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh but pulled a shoulder muscle and had to be relieved by Grissom.

Robin Roberts picked up his 12th win in a relief role when Willie Jones' seventh-inning grand slam homer gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 10-8 triumph over the Chicago Cubs and Stan Musial's two-run seventh-inning triple helped the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-1, in other NL games.

In the American League, Bob Lemon came back after being kayoed Monday night to pitch a six-hitter and give the Cleveland Indians a 5-1 win over the New York Yankees. Al Smith contributed two key doubles as Lemon won his 14th game and the Indians reduced the Yankees' first-place lead to eight games.

Bosox Edge Tigers

Ted Williams' three-run homer and a round-tripper by Jackie Jensen paced the Boston Red Sox to a 5-4 verdict over the Detroit Tigers. Tom Brewer raised his record to 15-3 although he needed relief help from Tom Hurd. Charley Maxwell hit his 20th homer for the Tigers.

Whitey Herzog's double and a two-run single by Ed Fitzgerald sparked a four-run 10th inning that gave the Washington Senators and Chuck Stobbs a 6-2 win over the Chicago White Sox. Jim Wilson suffered his 10th loss for the White Sox, who have dropped 19 of their last 24 games.

The Kansas City Athletics ended a six-game losing streak when they pounded out 12 hits to beat the Baltimore Orioles, 9-4, in the other AL game. Lou Kretlow, in his best showing in eight weeks, went seven innings to receive credit for his fourth win.

Castellani Matched With Giambra in TV Bout Friday Night

With both men aiming for a crack at Ray Robinson's middleweight crown, Rocky Castellani of Cleveland pits his boxing skill against slugger Joey Giambra of Buffalo in the feature bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night. The fight, originally scheduled for July 13, was postponed due to a hand injury sustained by Giambra.

This important ten-round elimination will be televised nationally by NBC, and locally by WSIL at 8 p. m.

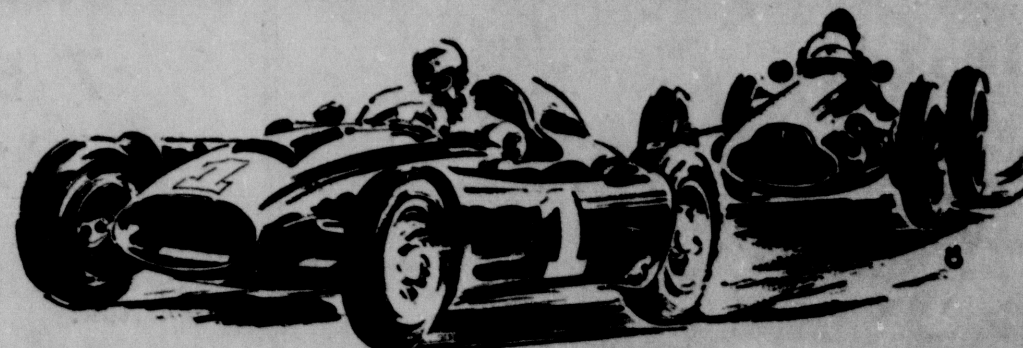

Castellani, 29, one of the fanciest boxers in the business, showed he could turn on the power when he startled a vast TV audience last August by dropping Sugar Ray to the canvas before losing to him by a hairline decision.

Giambra, fighting as a pro since 1949, has won 45 out of 50 bouts, with better than 50% of his wins via the KO route. Now 25, and with a two-year stretch in the army behind him, Joey is counting heavily on his punch to help him on a rapid climb to the top.

Carrier Mills Grade Principal Urges Physical Exams

John Austin, principal of the Carrier Mills grade school, in discussing the start of the school term Sept. 4, today declared, "Illinois school law is specific in regards to physical and dental examinations for first and fifth grade students. Parents of all first and fifth grade students of Carrier Mills Central school are reminded to take their children to their family doctor and dentist for thorough examinations."

Most doctors and dentists have the forms for the physical exams, however they also are available at the office of the Carrier Mills grade school between the hours of 9 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. each day, Mr. Austin revealed.

Parents are requested to bring the completed medical and dental forms to the school office and parents were also reminded by Mr. Austin that first graders entering school for the first time must present a birth certificate.

The Carrier Mills grade school building has undergone a complete cleaning and most all rooms have been redecorated in pleasing pastel colors.

Monday work will start on tearing away the old chimney at the grade school, which is badly damaged and inadequate, preparatory to building a much larger and more sturdy smoke stack.

This work will be done by Tom McGowan and Company, masonry contractors from Eldorado, low bidders for the construction.

The new smoke stack, which is to be completed by the start of school, will be completely lined with firebrick.
